

CSR Europe launches Enterprise 2020 blog - hosting the conversation towards a smart, sustainable and inclusive society

CSR Europe is delighted to announce the launch of the Enterprise 2020 blog - a new and exciting online platform which aims to host the conversation towards a smart, sustainable and inclusive society!

The Enterprise 2020 blog will be published on a monthly basis and will feature topical insights, videos and thought pieces from leading CSR professionals. This month, we kick off the blog with a piece written by CSR Europe's Executive Director, Stefan Crets, who looks at how companies can maximize the potential of their own social entrepreneurs.

Please take a moment to read the blog and give your feedback. This is your opportunity to join the conversation on how we can jointly shape new hope and build trust in people's values, leadership and innovation towards the enterprise of the future.
