

The UK winners of the inaugural European CSR Award recognising responsible and sustainable business practice announced

The UK winners of the inaugural European CSR Award recognising responsible and sustainable business practice were announced today at an event in London during Business in the Community's Responsible Business Week.

The UK winners are WM Morrison Supermarkets PLC for UK Large Business and Pera Innovation for UK Small and Medium Sized Business. EDF Energy is recognized as Highly Commended. Both UK Winners will be recognised alongside the winners of the other participating 27 European countries by the European Commission in Brussels on 25th June.

Stephen Howard, Chief Executive of Business in the Community, said at the event "WM Morrison Supermarkets and Pera Innovation are both inspirations to businesses, in all sectors and throughout Europe, on how to transform our businesses and communities through innovative collaborations tackling the most pressing societal issues."
