

CMS Cameron McKenna LLP publishes Corporate Social Responsibility Report 2013. Joining the dots

*Joining the Dots* takes a look at how CMS Cameron McKenna joins forces with key stakeholder groups who share their passion for citizenship. It highlights their work with clients, employees, communities and suppliers through pro bono, social mobility, charitable giving, diversity and inclusion and environmental initiatives. CMS encourages all employees to devote 50 hours a year to CSR activity with a particular emphasis on 'skills-based volunteering' which allows employees to develop and hone new skills through CSR that they can bring back into the workplace and deliver an even better service to clients. Pro bono forms the crux of their programme with their lawyers devoting over 10,000 hours of free legal advice to deserving organisations around the world. The report takes a look at some of their key initiatives but if you would like to find out more, please contact Robert Powell.

Read or download the report here: www.cms-cmck.com/Corporate-Social-Responsibility-Report-2013---Joining-the-Dots-07-11-2013

You can also find last year's report here: www.cms-cmck.com/Corporate-Social-Responsibility-Report-2012-Making-headway-07-11-2012

CMS is a law firm that aims to be where its clients do business with 2,800 legal and tax advisers in 56 offices in Europe, China, North Africa and South America.

source: ReportAlert

28/11/2013