AMD (NYSE:AMD) publishes 2013/2014 Corporate Responsibility Report & Summary

This is AMD's 19th consecutive annual corporate responsibility report. To maximize accessibility this information is available in several formats:

- A summary magazine of AMD's programs and recent progress available in English, Portuguese and Chinese
- A detailed report covering all aspects of AMD's corporate responsibility programs and following the requirements of the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) G3.1 Guidelines
- Region-specific corporate responsibility information available for Malaysia, Canada, China and Brazil
- A refreshed website at www.amd.com/corporateresponsibility

The last few years have been a period of transformation and resurgence for AMD. Throughout this time, AMD has not only maintained but has strengthened its commitment to corporate responsibility. Some of the corporate responsibility highlights from 2013/2014 include:

- AMD was named to CR Magazine's Top 100 Best Corporate Citizens List in 2013 and 2014
- For the 12th consecutive year, AMD was included on one or more of the Dow Jones Sustainability Indexes.
- AMD was added to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) "Green Power Leadership Club" in 2013 and was ranked 12th in Top 30 Tech and Telecom List, and 30th in Fortune 500® Partners List
- AMD was elected for a second term to chair the Electronic Industry Citizenship Coalition (EICC). This is a coalition of 95 member companies focused on improving labor and environmental issues throughout the global electronics supply chain
- AMD made significant progress on ensuring conflict minerals in their supply chains are "conflict free" and ranked 5th overall in The Enough Project Conflict Minerals Company Rankings for their efforts

Please contact AMD with your comments and input on how they can continue to improve their corporate responsibility programs and reporting going forward.
