

Call for action for ESP

The Entrepreneurial Skills Pass (ESP) is an international qualification that aims to facilitate students' transition from education to entrepreneurship or employment.

In order to make ESP a pass to further opportunities, JA-YE Europe and CSR Europe launched a call for action for companies and organisations across Europe.

The objective is to "mobilise" resources to:

- Offer young people a competitive advantage for pursuing further education, entering the world of work or starting a venture on their own.
- Answer business risks related to skills and employability such as an ageing workforce, a growing skills gap and stagnating socio-economic development.

If you are a company and you want to support ESP have a look at the call for action here.

To find out more on the latest developments, read the ESP newsletter, consult the project page or contact Alice Pedretti (ap@csreurope.org)

