

Kids of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Enjoy Night of Fun with Dive-In Movies Presented by Carnival Cruise Line

January 12, 2015 /3BL media/ - Inspired by the Dive-In Movies that are a popular attraction aboard Carnival's "Fun Ships," the kids at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital enjoyed a night of Halloween-themed outdoor fun at the Memphis, Tennessee hospital.

The festivities began with arts and crafts with kids making their own trick-or-treat bags and other "spook-tacular" creations. Then it was on to the outdoor plaza at Target House, a long-term living facility for the families of St. Jude. There, kids could relax on lounge chairs and enjoy popcorn, candy and other traditional movie fare as they watched the popular Halloween flick Hotel Transylvania under the stars.

All agreed it was a great way to get in the spirit of Halloween. Can't wait for next year!
