

2015 International Corporate Citizenship Conference

Envisioning the future of corporate citizenship is a complex task, one that involves audacious goals and detailed planning. During the Boston College Center for Corporate Citizenship 2015 International Corporate Citizenship Conference, you'll connect with peers, attend insightful sessions, learn from industry experts and cultivate a clear vision combined with the strategic setting of goals needed to achieve it. You'll walk away prepared to shape your company's goals by building on your corporate values and leveraging the unique core competencies of your business, inspired to imagine what MORE might be possible.

Unlike many events, the International Corporate Citizenship Conference admits only corporate citizenship practitioners and industry leaders to encourage the free flow of discussion and debate for more effective engagement and feedback.
