

BASF, Philips Lighting and Crown Estate on true value impact reporting

With the increased requirement from stakeholders for companies to portray the value of their impact and the added scrutiny on sustainability data - accurate sustainability reporting is more important than ever.

Hear how leading global brands are building stakeholder trust and brand reputation by learning how they are quantifying and reporting their environmental and social economics.

Join the Crown Estate, BASF, Philips Lighting and Natural Capital Coalition for an exclusive one hour webinar (June 27th, 12pm GMT) or receive the recordings if you can't join here: <http://events.ethicalcorp.com/reporting/webinar/>

Learn how to:

- Convey non-financial data as if they were financial data with the aim of building trust and brand reputation
- How to quantify your environmental and social economics to demonstrate positive impact
- Treat non-financial data as rigorously as financial and reach reasonable assurance

Can't join? Sign up anyway to receive the full post-webinar recordings:
