

CSR Europe welcomes Hellenic Petroleum to its network

CSR Europe is proud to welcome a new corporate member to its network! As one of the leading energy groups both in Greece and South East Europe, Hellenic Petroleum covers a wide range of activities, having refining and fuels marketing as the core of its business.

CSR is central to Hellenic Petroleum's business model. The group is especially active in assessing its impact on the community. Through the implementation of a wide and multifaceted CSR program, its various initiatives, best practices, principles and codes of conduct it has increasingly coupled corporate strategy and sustainability whilst paying special attention to vulnerable groups, youth and culture.

In 2012 Hellenic Petroleum received, among others, the 1st Process Award for Sustainable Development and was recognised for its distinction in the categories of governance, society, environment and stakeholders approach.
