

Kostas Georgantzis
Hellas Gold PR & CSR Manager

Born and raised in Athens, Kostas Georgantzis studied Political Science, Communication and Economics, in Germany. He lived in Munich, where he worked in Communications and Marketing sector for more than twenty years.

In January 2007, he joined the mining industry and he assumed the Communications and Corporate Social responsibility Management of Kassandra Mines, Halkidiki, in cooperation with the investors of the project (Elaktor, European Goldfields, Eldorado Gold).

Hellas Gold is now employing more than 2.000 people working for the implementation of an investment of over 1 b$, and an estimated annual turnover of 200 m $ from 2018 onwards.